PRELIMINARY MILLINERY DISPLAY

Tomorrow we invite you to take the first peep at the New Fall Millinery Concepts. We have arranged several very special displays in both street and dress hats, representing copies of the masterpieces of several famous designers. Amongst them you will see large flat hats with just a bit of trimming, small close-fitting hats that are trimmed straight up in the air, satin and velvet hats with great groups of ribbons and feathers, and we could go on and tell you about many more, but we want you to enjoy the surprises.

A Very Unusual Advance Attraction Is

Our Line of

TRIMMED MODEL HATS, AT,

$5 and $7.50

As unique as unusual for such an occasion, but a demonstration of the leadership of our Millinery Department. Hats of unusual distinction are offered at these moderate prices. Included you will find new arrivals in the Newport and Harem Veil Hats, also the large sailors, Mushrooms, Tams, Tricorns and hundreds of Fall Sport Hats. The trimmings consist of gold and silver ornaments, fancy novelties, wings, Japanese and Chinese ornaments. The color assortment include the new Nancy grays, beige, purple, taupe, Chinese red, tete de negre, navy and old blue, Burgundy and black.

The Latest New York Craze—Chinese Red Hats

DOCTOR LATEST VICTIM OF INFANTILE DISEASE

Takoma Physician Visited New England During Summer.

Another adult case of infantile paralysis was discovered by District health officials yesterday, the latest sufferer being Dr. William A. Hooker, of 223 Willow avenue, Takoma Park.

This is the third adult case which has been reported to the health department since the disease became common in late June.

Tracing the history of the latest case, the health officials learn that Dr. Hooker left Washington on July 23 for an extended visit in New England. During his absence he visited the States of Maine, Massachusetts and Connecticut. He returned home August 7, and three weeks later was taken ill. Since that time he failed to improve and yesterday the case was reported as showing unmistakable signs of poliomyelitis.

The health officials propose to make an effort to learn whether he was in an infected area during his absence, and if so, whether the out-to-town officials were not negligent by failing to notify the local authorities.

PROHIBITION SPECIAL STARTS LONG CAMPAIGN

"Dry" Candidates Commence Tour of Western States.

(By the International News Service.) Chicago, Sept. 9.—The most pretentious campaign ever attempted by the Prohibition party was launched from Chicago today when a special train left for the Pacific coast carrying Frank Hanly, Presidential candidate; Ira J. Landrith, Vice Presidential candidate; Oliver W. Stewart, the campaign manager; and Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the National Committee. The train will be constantly on the road from now until the November elections. Mr. Hanly started his transcontinental tour with a speech at Waukegan, Ill., this morning. He spoke from the rear platform. "Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Hughes," he declared, "are without the real issue of this campaign. Both are perpetuating a traffic which makes it impossible for us to play the part in the world we should play."

Eight speeches were on the program for the Prohibition candidates today. After Waukegan came Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Madison and Rockford, all in Wisconsin.

The "Prohibition Flyer" consists of two day coaches and two Pullmans. Prohibition candidates in the various States will be picked up en route.

PRESIDENT OF CHINA REJECTS JAPAN LOAN

President Yuan Shih-kai of the Chinese ministry has decided to reject the Japanese tender of a $500,000 loan for the improvement of the Chinese railway system. The tender was made yesterday by the Japanese government. The Chinese government, it was stated, will never negotiate with American financial interests for an amount as large as that figure. The Chinese government, it was stated, had become convinced that the Japanese proposition would be regarded about with embarrasing conditions, chief among them being the intention of Japan to exercise a degree of supervision in the expenditure which the loan would make possible.

AUCTIONEERS RUSH TO OBTAIN LICENSES

Over a score of auctioneers applied to the District Commissioners for licenses yesterday for the purpose of conforming to the regulations required in the new "fake auction" law which will be rigidly enforced by the police, after tomorrow. Auctioneers may apply up to tomorrow for their licenses to transact business and those who have been conducting legitimate places in the past will have no difficulty in conforming to the new regulations, according to the Commissioners. About fifteen fly-by-night auctioneers are expected to take advantage of the opportunity of doing further business because of the strict regulations now to be enforced.

IRISH "WHITE HOPE" GATHERS "THE BACON"

The two small Irish pugilists, who battle for "newspaper" rights on the corner of Third and Pennsylvania avenues, got together yesterday and decided to fool the public and take a day's afternoon fight, hoping to catch a small change as they did in the first of the week.

URGES TEACHERS FROM INFECTED DISTRICTS

Ernest L. Thurston, superintendent of the Washington public schools, has urged teachers residing in districts infected by infantile paralysis to leave at once. It is announced that specific directions have been issued for the return of all teachers and grade principals, Monday, September 25.
